

Homework from September 19th:

Read Genesis 11 & 12

Abraham and Sarah waited a long time for God to fulfill the promise that they would have descendants. Is there anything you are waiting for God to do? How does it feel to wait? Do you find it easy or difficult to hope and trust while you wait?

God's covenant with Abraham and Sarah required them to act as if they trusted in God's promise – and they had to do some difficult things. Is God now, or has God ever asked you to do something difficult? Write briefly about what it was (is) and what happened.

Extra Credit... (because this will take you longer than 15 minutes...)

Take this challenge! Read Genesis 12 through 25 in "The Message" or other easy to read translation – it is more dramatic than any TV show! What kind of people does God work through? What surprises you about this family?

Your prayer assignment this week: Pray for God's presence in your family, no matter what circumstances you find yourself in. (I've spent time praying about this : ___)
